

HOT WATER INFO

In Ireland hot water (for baths, showers and sinks) is done via an electric immersion system. This differs from places like the U.S. where you have hot water on tap. The following guide should help.

Master Bedroom Shower: This shower is electric. To start pull the cord beside the shower cord and turn on the shower as normal.

Water for Sinks & The Main Bath: In the kitchen there is a box on the left side of the wall just above the counter top. Here you can turn on the emersion system to get hot water for either the bath or the various sinks in the house including the kitchen. Press the amount of time you want.
